

My life – in 6 words

① Hemingway wrote this six-word story:

*For sale:
Baby shoes.
Never used.*

What do you think it means? Talk to a partner.

② Read these stories. What do they mean? Which do you like?
What is the rest of the story?

I'll always love you (and chocolate)

Bad luck: sickness.
Good luck: friends.

"How about lunch?"
"OK."
Love began.

Grew up –
no confidence.
Moved.
Success!

*She loved me.
But not enough.*

SCHOOL.
TESTS.
STRESS.
MORE TESTS.
NEXT?

*Do I love him?
Maybe not.*

Still looking for my big dream.

③ Write your life story.
Use only 6 words.

|  |  |  |

Want to change
my family.
Now!

*I still love to dance.
You?*

④ Show your story to a partner. Partner, ask questions.

Then change partners. Keep going.
